Market Environment

Notable Items and Market Themes to Watch

Notable Items

Interest rates and central bank actions

- The Federal Reserve approved its second 25 basis point interest rate cut this year amid labor market weakness

Economic data and trends

- Inflation, tariffs, elevated trade tensions, & labor developments

Artificial intelligence

- Research developments, applications, infrastructure investment, market impact, risk oversight and governance

Stewardship and ESG-related developments

- Securities and Exchange Commission Chair announces SEC will not oppose initial public offering filings with mandatory arbitration provisions and will defer to state law; International Corporate Governance Network and Council of Institutional Investors oppose

Market Themes

- U.S. Federal Government Shutdown: The shutdown has prompted various economic and market consequences including weakened consumer sentiment due to the furlough of government workers and delayed payments to federal contractors; policy-making uncertainty as key data releases are on pause; and potential downside implications to GDP growth
- Tariff Impacts: U.S. trade policy remains a headwind on the economy. Import tariffs remain high across many sectors. Trade policy risk has been priced into inflation expectations in many forward-looking economic models
- Inflation: Global inflation is projected to decline gradually from ~3.4% in 2025 to ~2.9% in 2026. In the U.S., core inflation is expected to register 3.0% year-over-year, with tariff impacts expected to gradually build
- Federal Reserve Policy: On October 29th, the Federal Reserve cut the federal funds rate by another 25 basis points. The second cut of the year, the new range is 3.75-4.00%. The reduction was intended to ease impacts of a slowdown in the labor market
- Geopolitical Uncertainty: Geopolitical uncertainty continues due to trade tensions, tariff retaliation, and regional conflicts
- Corporate Earnings: Third-quarter earnings were strong with many of the largest companies performing better than expected
